OWEN RAPS PROFITEERS AND SUPREME COURT

OKLAHOMA SENATOR FIRED A BROADSIDE SHORTLY AFTER HIS ARRIVAL AT FRISCO

Presidential Candidate Generously Attacks All Comers, Including Wilson.

SAYS LIQUOR LAW
IS STRICT ENOUGH

Doesn't Want the Country Run
by a Few Jurists Appointed for Life.

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Senator Robt L. Owen, of Oklahoma, first of the democratic candidates for the presidential nomination to arrive here, fired his opening broadside today.

Among the victims of his shrapnel, hit either directly or indirectly, were President Wilson, republican nominee Harding, the wets and the dries, the supreme court, the republican platform makers, dealers in life's necessities—and then some.

"I am opposed," he said, "to the league of nations or liquor being carried into the campaign as the main points in dispute. The real issue is the high cost of living. I favor a plank calling for the ratification of the treaty on terms acceptable to the majority of the senate. The treaty must be gotten out of the way at once. I favor a plank declaring for the strict enforcement of the eighteenth amendment, and if the Volstead act isn't strong enough, I favor making it stronger. I think it is sufficient, however, for a beef steak contains more alcohol than is allowed under its provisions. I favor federal control by license of all concerns distributing the necessities of life, making it possible for the public to procure what it needs at a fair price. I oppose a few men, appointed for life, governing this country. I mean the supreme court—and I say it without apology.
It isn't the supreme court's fault, but the fault of congress and of the people. The constitution does not have to be changed to remedy this."

Senator Owen did not mention President Wilson by name, but he frankly objected to the Virginia platform.
"The democratic platform ought to be very short," he went on.

Senator Owen called Senator Harding the "standpatter of standpatters."

STRONG FOR McADOO
(International News Service.)
KANSAS CITY, June 22.—Indications that friends of Wm. G. McAdoo will "stop at nothing" in their effort to force his name before the national convention, stood out clearly in a statement issued by Burris Jenkins, editor of the Kansas City Post, today.

WOMEN GOING STRONG
(By MRS. GEORGE BASS,
Chairman Woman's Bureau, Democratic National Committee.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The day of the "ladies' aid society" is passing. The churches are admitting them as delegates and voting members. In politics we are moving more rapidly. Four years after the democratic national convention recommended the extension of suffrage to women their enfranchisement is practically accomplished. Women will now have a part in all that is done.
Democratic women today tackled
the task of building a party platform.

The females were called into formal conference today to discuss the platform.

WIFE IS SHOT DEAD BY MAN WEARING ARMY SHIRT

Husband, Former Officer in France, Kills Assailant in Pistol Duel Fought in Dark.

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 22.—Mrs. Ruth Wanderer, 21, bride of ten months, was shot down and killed at her husband's side last night by a man believed to have been a robber or an ex-soldier who had a supposed grievance against C. Wanderer, the husband, who served as a lieutenant of a machine gun company in France.
The husband, seeing that his wife was dead, engaged the assailant in a deadly duel in the dark and shot him dead.

The body of Mrs. Wanderer was carried into her mother's apartment and laid beside a tiny crib which had been prepared in anticipation of the baby which was to have arrived in August.

Police are attempting to identify the dead assailant, who wore an army shirt and carried an army revolver.

Toll Gates Can't Charge for Autos, One Court Holds

COLUMBIA, Tenn., June 22.—Turnpike companies chartered under the laws of Tennessee have no legal right to demand or collect toll for automobiles passing over them, according to a decision handed down today by Judge W. B. Turner, of the circuit court of Giles county. Judge Turner delivered the opinion today in the case of the Pulaski & Brick Church Turnpike Company against Ben Allen Eslick.

Mr. Eslick refused to pay toll on his automobile and the company sued to collect the penalty provided by statute.

Turnpike companies were chartered before the automobile came into use and Judge Turner holds that they are strictly bound by the terms of their charters and cannot collect any fees not therein set out.

MASS MEETING TO RATIFY TICKET IS POSTPONED; NO PLANS PERFECTED

Central Labor Council Meets and Discusses the Situation.

SOME CANDIDATES
SAY WILL WITHDRAW

Little Given Out as to What Transpired at Session.

At a meeting of the Central Labor council, held last night at Hardage Hall, the mass meeting called for tonight at the Masonic Theatre for the purpose of ratifying a labor ticket recently nominated, was indefinitely postponed.

It was stated today by those attending the meeting, that some of the nominees for aldermen on the labor ticket also announced their withdrawal. However, the names of these were not disclosed.

While but little was given out for publication as to what transpired at the meeting of the Labor council, it was rumored on the streets today that the session was not altogether a harmonious one, and a wide difference of opinion was expressed by those present as to the wisdom of placing a straight labor ticket in the field for municipal offices. There was also some objection to the ticket as nominated at a recent meeting of 32 representatives of the various local crafts, it was reported.

With the ratification meeting postponed—and probably not to be held at all, according to rumors, the military command of "as you were" best expresses the situation, it is stated.
Whether or not a labor ticket will be nominated, the present ticket endorsed or a new ticket selected were only matters of conjecture
in political circles today.

The following is the ticket originally announced:

For Mayor—Dr. F. L. Carswell.
For President city council—A. R.
Harvey.
For Aldermen: First ward—E. F.
Rhinehardt and F. J. Perkins.
Second ward—L. E. Boeglen and T.
F. Lewis.
Third ward—E. E. Speer and Chas.
Kent.
Fourth ward—George Webb and W.
A. Britian.

CONFERENCE ADJOURNS
(International News Service)

BOULOGNE, June 22.—The inter-allied conference adjourned at 1 o'clock this afternoon without having reached a decision on the resumption of commercial relations with Germany. The decision was held up by Premier Millerand's insistence that more definite assurances from the soviet be made regarding the payment of Russia's war debt. The negotiations will be continued at London.

Both Premiers Lloyd George and Millerand said they were "thoroughly satisfied" with the results of the conference.

(International News Service.)

BOULOGNE, June 22.—A new allied note, demanding the immediate disarmament of Germany in accordance with the terms of the peace treaty, was sent to Berlin today. It was formally approved by Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, chief of the British general staff. Resumption of commercial relations with Russia and the troublesome Turkish question were discussed today.

In some quarters no secret is made of the fact that so far the conference has been barren of results, except for the rejection of some of the international schemes proposed at previous meetings of the allied statesmen.

The Italian foreign minister kicked over the traces immediately after his arrival. At a private interview with Premier Lloyd George and Millerand the minister said that the new Italian cabinet would not be a party to any private arrangement between England and France which Italy would be expected to approve after a few hours discussion at Boulogne. Italy further seeks assurances that Greece will not be allowed to "cut loose in Turkey" without restraint from any other power. When the conference was resumed today it was freely admitted that no real progress has been made on the question of German indemnities.

DURRETT VICTIM OF A LIVE WIRE

STEEL GANG FOREMAN MEETS
SUDDEN DEATH AT FT.
WORTH, TEXAS

R. R. Durrett, of Eighth Avenue,
west, has returned from Pulaski, Tenn., where he attended the funeral of his brother, Ed Durrett, who was electrocuted at Ft. Worth, Texas, when he came in contract with a live wire, while at work.

Regarding the tragedy, a recent issue of the Ft. Worth Record says:
"Ed Durrett, steel gang foreman, was electrocuted at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon while handling a steel reinforcing rod at the Stripling-Jenkins building now under construction on East Front Street. He was engaged in hoisting a steel rod, one inch in diameter and 30 feet long, by electric power, holding the rod at the further end, when one of the wires carrying a powerful current came in contact with the rod and the high voltage current passed through his body, killing him instantly."

Mr. Durrett, who was 42 years of age, is survived by a 7-year old son.
He left Albany about two years ago
for the west, and is well known here, where he had many friends. He was a native of Pulaski, Tenn., and his father and mother now reside there.

THE SINCERITY OF WILLIAM G. McADOO

When Wm. G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, recently issued a public statement in which he asked that his name should not be presented to the Democratic national convention as a candidate for the presidency, the average man began to cudgel his intellect in the hope that he might be able to determine for himself what deep-laid plan was behind the action. There were very few who were willing to admit that the President's son-in-law was sincere. Some of the wiser ones saw in his reluctance to enter the race for an office that is more highly valued than any in the world a desire to further the candidacy of President Wilson. Others, confident that the executive has had enough of public life, believed that Mr. McAdoo sought to make a public parade of his lack of personal fortune, or to confound the republican plutocrats who have spent their millions so lavishly in the purchase of party honors. Yet, it is quite possible that all of these political sapients were wrong.

Except from the standpoint of service, there are many excellent reasons why a man who has already won world-wide fame could decline a nomination for the presidency. There are reasons, even, why one of comparative obscurity could thrust aside this opportunity for enhanced prestige. The White House occupant, if he is capable, if he is industrious, if he is honest, is more to be pitied than envied. His is no flowery bed of ease. From the moment that he assumes office until his successor is inaugurated, he is harassed by claimants for office, hounded by the opposition and burdened with duties of the gravest kind. President Wilson himself is a striking object lesson of a conscientious executive. In order to comply with the many demands upon him, to serve his people and humanity to the very utmost of his ability, he sacrificed health and endangered his life. For all of which he is the most maligned man in America today.

Looked at squarely, the office is one that offers no tempting rewards. It is the duty of both great and small to serve their country to their best capacity, and if drafted as standard bearer William Gibbs McAdoo may be expected to rise to the occasion. He has shown attributes of true greatness by hesitating to rush in where even angels might fear to tread. Only little men seek exaltation, and only depraved or selfish ones would purchase power that it might be abused.

McCOMB'S ATTACK ON THE PRESIDENT

It is always the province of disgruntled politicians to air their grievances at what they consider the most opportune time. Therefore, it is not surprising to note the broadside against President Wilson fired by Wm. F. McCombs, former democratic chairman, just on the eve of the democratic national convention.

It has long been currently reported that Mr. McCombs, while conducting the 1916 presidential campaign, made certain pre-election promises to various persons and interests without the knowledge of the President, and that these were repudiated by Mr. Wilson, just as he broke other fetters forged for him by Col. George Harvey.

Under such circumstances it is easy to understand why Mr. McCombs can feel that the president is "autocratic." Practically everybody who has undertaken to relieve Mr. Wilson of his duties and responsibilities will concur in the indictment, including republican senators. For an American executive to insist on being president is an offense that those who have selfish motives to serve can never forgive.

That Mr. McCombs should have been fit to criticize the peace treaty and the manner in which it was negotiated is pardonable. He belongs to the same category as Lodge and Hiram Johnson, in that he was not consulted. At the same time, he must admit that it is the duty of the president to make peace.

may be concluded.

For McCombs to say, however, that the League of Nations is not an issue in the present campaign is pure balderdash. It must of necessity be the issue, in that the people alone have the right to determine whether a republican senate or a democratic president shall be upheld in their contentions as to what is to the best interest of the nation.

There is no other arbitrament of this great question than the ballot box.

BABY BORN IN "FLIVVER" OUTSIDE HOSPITAL DOORS

NEW YORK, June 22.—Patrick Mahoney, a policeman of the Boiler Squad, who lives in Nottawa street, Jamaica, is considering whether or not to name his youngest son Henry Ford Mahoney. The child was born in a five outside Mary Immaculate Hospital, Jamaica, where a room had been engaged.

Dr. Joseph Musante, of the house staff, hurried out and discovered it would be impossible to move Mrs. Mahoney. "Big Bill" Wegebauer, head ambulance chauffeur, who has a wife and children of his own, was called, and by striking one match after another he furnished enough light for Dr. Musante. The child and his mother are resting comfortably.

TRAVEL IN "GOOD OLD DAYS"

Description of Journey Made in Early '50s Recalls the Hardships of the Pioneers.

The hardships of pioneer life in Wisconsin during the early '50s are vividly portrayed by Dr. John C. Reeve, in an article entitled, "A Physician in Pioneer Wisconsin," in the Wisconsin Magazine of History, published by the State Historical society. The difficulties involved in the practice of medicine in a country almost devoid of roads, and with only the necessities of life, and with practically no money, are related by Doctor Reeve, who practiced in a small village in Dodge county. Of a journey made in January, 1852, he writes:

"Called to Cleveland by the critical illness of a sister, I left home on a Sunday morning in a sleigh, a private conveyance, and reached Milwaukee, about 50 miles away, that night. From there on runners to Chicago. Thence some 80 miles by Michigan Central railroad, and then by vehicle across to the Southern Michigan, at that time building from Toledo to Chicago. The appointments of the road were not yet made, so several times the train stopped, the passengers alighted and chopped fence rails to make fuel for the locomotives. From Toledo, on wheels, to a point on the railroad from Sandusky to Cincinnati; I think the place was Gallon. I reached my destination just at dark on Saturday night. I had traveled during the whole week, passing but two nights in bed."

Falkville News

More ideal weather would not be imagined for the growing crop. Two weeks of sunshine gave an opportunity to work over and plant most of the late corn. The cotton plant is fine and growing at a rate that will furnish a fine stalk for the July crop, which is always the main crop to put on in this section. Hay has been saved in great quantities and everything augurs well for the out turn.

W. E. Hargrove of the Birmingham Fire Department was a visitor here Sunday.

Owing to a heavy rain at Sunday school and church service time, there was no preaching at the Methodist church last morning.

Rev. John Carville and family have returned after a two weeks' visit to friends and relatives at Lineville, Ala. They made the round trip via automobile.

L. M. Huff has returned to Albany, after several days spent here at the Falkville Drug Co.

The infant of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Patterson, one of a pair twins, was buried at the Falkville cemetery last Sunday evening.

M. F. Patterson & Son are preparing install their new ginning outfit, which will be a modern affair in all particulars. They will also erect a new gin house which will give them ample facilities for handling the cotton.

Systematic effort will be made this fall to take care of the sweet potato crop in a modern way. Several are planning to build modern potato curing houses. There is annually raised large quantities of the sweet potato here, and just as often quantities are ruined by the cold weather of method of storing.

The membership of the Christian church will paper their church and otherwise make improvements on the interior before the meeting which will be held soon. The Ladies Aid Society of the church is sponsoring the movement.

The condition of Mrs. L. S. Kyker who has been ill for some time, is unimproved, and no hope is held for her recovery.

Final preparations are now being made for the meeting which will be held at the Baptist church next month. A splendid preacher has been secured and a great time is looked for.

"The Wayfarer"HERE'S PROOF

AN ALBANY CITIZEN TELLS OF HIS EXPERIENCE.

You have a right to doubt statements of people living far away, but can you doubt Albany's endorsement? Read it: J. A. Dillehay, retired grocer, 1115 Fourth avenue, Albany, says: "My back was so sore and lame I had to walk in a stooped position as it was awfully painful for me to straighten. I couldn't rest comfortably and my strength and vigor were becoming considerably reduced. I could get nothing to relieve the agony in my back although I tried many remedies faithfully. I finally heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. The effect was magical. In six weeks every symptom of my complaint had left me and my back was strong and well. I could go about my work with my usual health and strength and I have recommended Doan's occasionally since."

Above statement given February 28, 1908, and on February 27, 1918, Mr. Dillehay said: "Since I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills I have used them several times. They have always helped me when my kidneys acted disorderly and I am glad to confirm the statement made in 1908." 60c, at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

WHITE CROSS TO MEET AT BUFFALO

ORGANIZATION OF BAPTIST WOMEN TO PLAN WORK ON LARGER SCALE AT CONVENTION

(International News Service)

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 22.—margination of the Overland and Overseas divisions of the White Cross Service League, under the inclusive name and symbol of White Cross, will be discussed at a joint meeting of the Women's American Baptist Home and Foreign Mission Societies during the week preceding the thirteenth annual meeting of the Northern Baptist Convention in Buffalo, June 23-29. Miss Ina Burton, of Chicago, national director of the White Cross, will present new plans.

The White Cross, organized in Ohio, April, 1919, along the lines of the American Red Cross, has successfully passed its experimental stages. It was formed with the aim of employing more efficiently the hands, time and money of Baptist women for the cause of Christ as the Red Cross employed American women.

The object of the league is to serve the mission front and for this purpose two divisions were originally established—the Overland for home mission aid; the Overseas, for foreign mission work. Both departments thus far have been conducting their work separately through district and State directors.

The idea of the White Cross has been heartily accepted by many States and individual churches. However, there are large areas still unorganized.

The White Cross exists primarily as a clearing house for needs of missionaries and their families, where ever they may be located. A missionary needing anything, from Bibles to bicycles, not excepting household articles, clothing, medicines, toys, is now able to write to the White Cross stating his request and in the shortest possible order receive what he needs.

According to Mrs. L. J. P. Bishop, of Ohio, one of the founders of the league, who will be present at the joint meetings, a union of the Overland and Overseas divisions will make for still greater efficiency in the administration of the organization.

"We hope to have a branch of the White Cross in every Baptist church in the country," said Mrs. Bishop. "With White Cross chapter in every church, the old custom of sending out missionary barrels, filled with cast-off, nondescript articles which may be of no earthly use to the recipient, will be a thing of the past.

"Instead, a missionary will be able to state exactly what he needs and be sure of getting it. It may be a new set of dishes, little daughter may want a doll, or perhaps books are desired, or garden tools. Whatever it is the White Cross will see that the missionary gets it. The League aims to be to our missionaries what the Red Cross was to our soldiers during the war."

During the joint conferences, the closer coordination of other Baptist work, such as World Wide Guild, Children's Crusade, Prayer and Stewardship, will also be considered.

HOLDING EGGS TO BOOST THE PRICE

DELANEY FINDS MILLIONS MORE IN CHICAGO SUPPLY—BUTTER IN ABUNDANCE

Written for International News Service

(By John F. Delaney)

CHICAGO, Ill., June 22.—This is the egg season—the time of the year when eggs are usually at their lowest price—when millions and millions of busy hens are working overtime and poultry men on the farms are shipping eggs in large quantities.

At this same period of the year, in 1914—before the war showed the food speculators how to manipulate supplies and hold them in cold storage—eggs sold at twenty-four cents a dozen and in years prior to that sold closer to twelve cents a dozen. This season 6,000,000 more eggs a week are coming into Chicago than in 1914.

Notwithstanding this fact, eggs are being piled into the warehouses by the millions at fifty cents a dozen, to be held until next winter in anticipation of a $1.50 or $2 price.

Every warehouse that caters to egg storage is crowded down with eggs and each day wagonload after wagonload is being hauled from freight trains to the cold storage warehouses for storage.

Butter and poultry present the same situation, and the individual figures of the warehouses show a much larger percentage of butter and poultry in storage today than a year ago, a time pointed to as the peak of permission to go through the warehouse, and I asked the reason why. "I'll not let a newspaper man go through here," said Manager Fleming to me. "We have a good supply of eggs and butter and poultry, and I'll not let a newspaper man describe 'There is less in our warehouse today than there was this time last year,' he declared.

Entrance into the cold storage warehouses is guarded much more carefully than is the entrance into the dry storage houses, and it was found difficult to get as many photographs of the interior, I was successful in some cases in smuggling a photographer in, and in those cases I got photographs, but in other cases I had to console myself with making the trip, using my observations as the only means of picturing the situation to the public.

Continuing my trip through floors of lard, blocks and blocks of butter, tons and tons of raisins, millions and millions of eggs, storeroom after storeroom of meat, and through kegs and kegs of mince meat.

More Ministers Needed.

It is from the families of the farmers and from the parsonage itself that new preachers come, according to a survey now being taken by the American education department of the Interchurch World Movement. The farms lead. The survey shows that out of every thousand pupils who enter the first grade of our American schools, only 38 enter college and only 14 remain to complete the course.

It is from these 14 that the churches recruit the great majority of their ministers. It is also disclosed by the survey that it requires about 5,000 new men every year merely to replace the gaps in the ranks of the ministry at home.

Possibly He Had.

As I was passing a yard where some children were playing I saw a little fellow fall from a high porch rail. He did not move for a minute so I ran to his assistance, but when I reached him he jumped up on his feet apparently unhurt.

"Why, my dear little boy," I said, "I felt sure you must be hurt. I am sure I should have been had I had such a bad fall."

"Oh, but you see," he said in explanation, "I've probably had lots more practice in falling than you."—Exchange.

No Cork Wasted Now.

The best cork has hitherto come from Spain, but the richest forests of fair grade cork are now in Sardinia. High prices are now paid for cork that was not salable a few years ago, for even the refuse is valuable now in making conglomerate for building and for insulating refrigerators, cork being the best non-conductor of heat and sound.

Moving Picture Statistics.

It is estimated that the gross yearly income of moving picture theaters in this country is about $750,000,000. In 26 years' time the public has been educated to spend this huge sum. There are 15,000 theaters, with a total seating capacity of 8,000,000. This year 1,200 more theaters will be built at an aggregate cost of $72,000,000.—Argonaut.

White Cannibals Found on Amazon

American Explorer Returns from South America
Bringing Tale of Four-Day Running Fight
With 200 Naked Savages.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 22.—Dr. Alexander Hamilton Rice and his party of Amazon explorers, including his wife, formerly Mrs. George D. Widener, of Philadelphia, arrived here recently, bringing thrilling tales of the discovery of a tribe of white Indians, all cannibals, and a running battle with the savages, in which Professor Rice nearly lost his life.

Accompanying Professor Rice, in addition to his wife, were Chester H. Ober, of Newport, R. I., of which city Professor Rice is a resident; John C. Couzens, of Yonkers, who acted as a launch engineer in the sail up the Amazon; John W. Wanson, who had charge of the launch's wireless equipment; Dr. Guy E. Byers, of Roosevelt Hospital, and James H. Mason, who was cook and steward on the trip.

The expedition left this city last

July and proceeded to Tara, Brazil, from which point the members penetrated to heretofore unknown and unexplored points along the Amazon river.

The discovery was made unexpectedly. The bleached savages found Dr. Rice about the same time he found them, and for a few days he feared they might take back to the other tribes of their nation some American scalps.

Dr. Rice had left his wife and other members of the expedition at Esmeralda, its base, and, with Ober, a member of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, several natives and a Venezuelan, Lio Fuentes, had started up the river to map a small island seven days from the base.

They got to the island without misadventure and finished their work. One of the Indian guides chanced to look across the river, ninety feet wide at that point, and was scared almost as white as the big white Indians to see one of them, stark naked, scuttling into the jungle.

Several shots were fired in the direction of the disappearing savage. A moment later the jungle was alive with yells, and more than 200 men, all big and some close to seven feet tall, rushed from the bushes. They were armed with bows and arrows, spears and blowguns. The doctor recognized then as the ones he had planned to discover, "cannibals of a mountain region, considered the most ferocious of all savages in Venezuela, Columbia or Brazil."

Dr. Rice decided that if it were possible he would parley with the tribe. All the Indian dialects known to the exploring party were used vainly on them. They responded to the attempts to get them to talk by yelling and rushing into the river, holding their weapons above their heads.

The explorers were unequipped for battle, having only one revolver, one rifle and one shotgun. The savages came on impetuously, and the three modern weapons popped and popped, and, after several of the giants had fallen dead in the stream and more had been wounded, the others lost their valor.

The white man's method of killing at a distance awed them. Their own arrows could not do damage at the distance. They retreated to the shore, and twenty minutes later the explorers had packed their camp equipment and instruments into their canoe and started on the trip to Esmeralda.

But the cannibals would not let the explorers out of their sight and kept pace with them on the river bank. Dr. Rice said:

"For four days and nights sleep was impossible. The savages apparently had no canoes, being a mountain tribe, and they ran along the bank, shooting arrows in our direction. It seems miraculous that none of us was hurt. After the fourth day they became disheartened at their inability to capture us, or even to inflict casualties and gave up the pursuit. In three more days we were safe at Esmeralda."

Dr. Rice is confident he rediscovered the legendary white, or near-white, cannibals. He believes they were seen only once before and then by Ensign Bobadilla, in 1763, during his explorations made under the auspices of the Spanish Government. They are, Dr. Rice believes, neighbors of the Marqui Ritares tribe, who hold them in deadly terror.

Mrs. Rice, in accompanying her husband on his expedition, the seventh he has made in nineteen years, has achieved the distinction of penetrating farther into the Amazon wilderness than any other white woman, breaking the record previously made by Mrs. Louis Agassiz in 1869, when she was a member of a party headed by her husband and sent out by the Spanish Government.

EXPLAINS ORIGIN OF "JAZZ"

At Last the Secret (?) Is Given to the World, and by an Englishman, Too.

Writing about the jazz reminds me that the subject is of such importance that a long cablegram was recently sent from London concerning the origin of the word. According to the cablegram, the secret is out, and it is an Englishman who gives us the valuable information.

He tells us that, while Englishmen should not be held responsible for the vernacular of their brethren in the Western continent, the word jazz, he admits, is now as much a household word in England as in America. And then he goes on to say that the word came from the South and from the negroes. Now in the South, he tells us, there is a germ known as the hookworm, which affects all true southerners. Some unkind employers call it "hooker-itis." The white employer, according to the erudite Englishman, in the South has many thousands of negroes working for him, and consequently many overseers. So, not being able to remember the names of all his foremen, he generally names each man Jasper, which, according to this Englishman, is a term of the highest esteem. Through the very human love of abbreviation, Jasper became "Jas." and as the overseer's principal means of getting work out of his underlings is through harsh and abusive tongue, he was often requested to "Jass up" the work. The Southern drawl makes "Jass" sound like "Jazz." And there we have the word itself. And jazz music, no matter what classic-loving critics may say about it, at least infuses energy. Hence the derivation.

Right laundering takes the perspiration and dirt from clothes without damage to color or cloth.

Right laundering is soft water laundering.

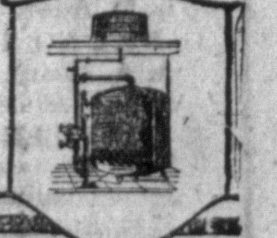

The water we use is softened by passing through a bed of Refinite, Nature's water softening mineral. It is softer than falling rain—clear, sparkling, velvety soft.

Clothes we launder are cleansed with far less washing. They are free from that hard water soap curd, which stiffens, discolors and weakens fabric. They last longer and retain their good looks.

3. To promote intelligent diversification of crops, and to develop markets for such crops, other than cotton, as may be profitably raised.
4. To insure and enlarge existing warehousing facilities and to secure additional facilities to the end that the producer may carry his crop, or such part as he may desire, at the minimum of expense and physical damage and at the maximum of security and financiality.
5. To broaden the markets for raw cotton and to enlarge the uses for cotton and cotton goods.
6. To improve and increase transportation and distributing facilities.
7. To collect information as to both domestic and foreign consumption of cotton, the state of trade, the extent of acreage, supply and condition of crop, and all other information of practical interests to the cotton industry, and to disseminate the results through the several sub-divisions to every member of every community, together with directions as to the course to be pursued in order to secure the best results in view of the facts disclosed.
8. To do all and singular whatsoever may be conducive to the stability and profitableness of the cotton producing industry.

The following Beat committeemen have been appointed in their respective beats, to advertise and get out to the County meeting, a good representation from their Beats, to join the association and then to organize in their respective beats, as we must act promptly if we get organized in time to handle this cotton crop. So let everybody come.

HITS AND MISSES

By BARRETT SHELTON

Whitey Glazner gets the whole affair hung against him for several wild heaves at the Traveler stickmen. Two of these heaves and a triple put the Little Rock clan out in front and the Baronial standing is rendered muchly unsafe with New Orleans facing the Vols.

Did we beat Cullman? I'll say we did?

Chattanooga and Mobile issued a record for the seasons shortest diamond argument yesterday with a figure of one hour and twelve minutes for the whole bout. Haid, the Bear heaver, stuck 'em over on the Look-outs and Coleman's Bruins hold tight to third line.

The first shall be last and the last shall be first. The Phillies chased the World Champion Reds from the park by coming away with a 5-1 verdict against Reuther.

J. Morrison will assume the box duties today against the mighty Lohman in Travelerville.

It won't be anything new when the morning paper comes flaming out with a headline of, "Dempsey earns right to defend title over all." Carpentier won't be the first man that got his with the mit from Jack's shoulder.

The Atlanta crew got busted again in a wrangle with the Chicks over in Tennessee to the tune of 4-1.

Cleveland put a little more distance between themselves and the Yanks with a win over the bean town gang. The argument lasted twelve rounds, but the Indians went home with the heavy slide of the 3-2 final.

HOT TIME FOR VISITORS

(Huntsville Telegram)

Brother Editor of the Albany Decatur Daily we agree with you now.

The Morgan Kiwanians are ball players in more than name. They won a good game from the Huntsville Kiwanians Friday on Moore's Field by the score of 10 to 9, but dear Editor we surely made them work hard for their honors.

Huntsville Kiwanians had to play the part of the congenial host all around and it would have never done for them to have beaten their guests. The local aggregation started off great and banged seven runs over in the first innings against two by the Morgans but did not connect with the totally bag again until the sixth inning and only pulled two then.

The Morgans tallied in every inning except the fifth. Their team presented good support all the way through. Barrow did the hurling for the local team. The umpire was Big Joe Bradley.

Score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total
Morgans	2	1	2	2	0	3	—	10
Huntsville	7	0	0	0	0	2	—	9

About thirty of the members of the Morgan Kiwanis club came to Huntsville to see the game. They were entertained after the battle or the diamond at the Kiwanis wigwan with a dinner from 6:30 to 7:45 o'clock and returned home on the 3:10 train.

"Hammerman" Ellis of the slag heap is in the front with the mark of 317. Barnhardt also of Ironville has been hitting 'em out of the park since donning the uniform of the regulars. The diminutive short stop is leading the left gardner by length and both are but a few notches from "Speed boy" Miller, who at the present recording is the ideal of all Southern baseballers.

Big Alex gets better all the time. He stopped the great streak of the St. Louis gang and the Cubs are hitting hard for the up trial.

Georges Carpentier faces the heavy king of Belgium at the Nashville Dell Thursday night and a good match is expected. The Prelims are exceedingly good and even if the diamond moguls don't stage the 3-2 stiff in the afternoon the Nashville Athletic Club will put one over Thursday night when the two "men, without a country" face each other as foeman after four years side by side in the German invasion.

Dutch met Dutch at Rome yesterday when Mitwede and Marbet came together to test the strength of their outifts. Although the second Dutch boy had the best of the mace argument, getting 3 out of 6 while Mitwede went hitless for the whole way batting seven times, La Grange split with Lindale for the final count.

Red Roberts punched to the 500 mark Sunday when he garnered two out of four presentations at the platter. Griffin has hit the down trail for the past few days and Red has been in third place after heading the list next to Rome.

The jumping disease has hit the Cracker outfit now and Manager Kaufman, who jumped Bob Higgins, one time veteran receiver of the Pels, out of a job with the Georgia Southern hopes, has worries all his won. Dickie hasn't any Roy Ellam to turn to as he used to. Watch out or he may turn up for a berth in Voldem. Here's hoping he doesn't land there, for murder will out.

Tailor Makes Valuable Find

"After spending $900 for medicine and doctors in four years without getting any benefit for stomach trouble and bloating I was induced by my druggist to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and must say that a $1 bottle has done me $500 worth of good." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—S. M. Thompson in Albany; Owl Drug Co. in Decatur and druggists everywhere. — Advertisement.

And Each Owner Thinks His Hudson the Greatest

It is due to the continued endurance and superior performance of the Super-Six.

Note how well satisfied are owners of Hudsons four and five years old. Then judge Super-Six qualities by comparison with other cars of the same period now in service.

But what those owners of older models do not realize is the great strides made in Hudson development. Their satisfaction in their car has closed their minds to the possibility of improvement.

Yet each succeeding model has been a step nearer perfection. And now we have in the present type reached a degree that not only retains the advantage common to every Super-Six—its fleetness, acceleration and endurance—but which relieves the owner of mechanical concern. It gives him locomotion-like power and Pullman-like riding qualities.

There is dignity, satisfaction and reliability in the present Super-Six which will be as notable five years hence as are now other recognized Hudson qualities of the first series.

There can be no other car just like the Hudson for parents give exclusiveness to the Super-Six motor.
